

VISION 2025

We will serve the future customer needs by expanding, supplementing and bringing together the competences of all our employees. Based on this expansion of our core competences, we are developing from the supplier of machine tool components to the process specialist and can provide our customers with optimal and solution oriented advice.

In addition to the creation of a technology system kit, customer access is created in particular by meeting a specific customer requirement. We will be approaching our customers with applications rather than with product functions. We will expand our customer focus in different market segments of the machine tool industry to at least three end customer sectors.

MISSION

We are a leading provider of machining units for installation in machine tools. Our core expertise is the development, production and assembly of technical mechanical components. We can offer our customers advanced and customized solutions for highly accurate and efficient cutting processes. From our location in Seeboden, Austria, we develop our customer and supplier relationships to create long term partnerships.

MISSION STATEMENTS

Customers: The satisfaction of our customers takes centre stage in the context of our decisions and our approach. We support our customers with competent advice and flexibly respond to their requirements surrounding our products and services. We are a reliable, solution oriented partner for our customers who satisfies the key requirements of efficiency, product quality and adherence with deadlines at all times. We respond to urgent requests from our customers flexibly and in reasonable time frames.

Employees: Qualified and motivated employees who gain the appreciation of our company are the basis of our success. Our employees' sense of responsibility and their sustained efforts are the core of our company culture. We make targeted investment in training and further education and create an environment for professional and creative services.

Efficiency: The solid, moderate growth of the company should be guaranteed by expanding our range of customers and products. All of our entrepreneurial decisions are based on taking our company policy regarding sustainability and efficiency into account.

Suppliers: We maintain partnerships with our suppliers to ensure specifications and agreed deadlines are complied with at all times and ensure that the high quality of the products and services which are purchased is guaranteed.

Management systems: We base our work upon the relevant laws and regulations and implement the requisite or specified measures in good time.

We manage our activities context related to ensure care, reliability and safety in terms of quality, the environment and related areas that are worth to be protected, as well as customers, interested parties and employees, is consistently guaranteed. Our integral management system is an important instrument throughout the entire company and also includes the requirement according to ISO9001 and ISO14001. It is the basis for our continuous improvement to increase the performance in quality and the environment, which incorporates all of our employees. We prevent damage to the environment through the professional and circumspect use of materials and resources.

Gunther Kranabether, Senior Management